

WHAT IS MAGNESIUM USED FOR?

Magnesium is a mineral that helps the body with:

Sleep Regulation

Bowel Movements

Muscle Relaxation

Why might it help?

For constipation

Magnesium can help draw water into the bowel, making stools:
Softer, easier to pass and less painful

For sleep

Magnesium may help some children:

Settle more easily

Relax at bedtime

Have less restless sleep

Are there side effects?

Many children tolerate magnesium well, but some common side effects may include:

Loose stools

Diarrhoea

Stomach cramps

Bloating

Helpful constipation advice alongside magnesium

Magnesium usually works best when combined with:

Regular toilet sitting

Good fluid intake

Fruit and fibre where possible

Physical activity

A consistent toileting routine

In many children, constipation improves slowly over weeks to months.
